SUMMER 2014

AH HAA SCHOOL FOR THE ARTS AUCTION

A BENEFIT FOR THE PROGRAMS OF THE AH HAA SCHOOL

FRIDAY
JULY 18

We Now Own The Depot – Debt Free!

The Ah Haa School for the Arts achieved a monumental milestone last winter by paying off the final debt on its home, Telluride's historic Train Depot on South Townsend Avenue. Grants from the Telluride Foundation, the Gates Foundation and the Boettcher Foundation, as well as numerous supporters, both large and small, helped Ah Haa achieve the fundraising necessary to accomplish such an enormous undertaking.

Thank you for believing in the work we do and, most especially, the power of art!

WELCOME TO AH HAA!

We are thrilled to report that Ah Haa is alive and well, and has never been more vital to our thriving community.

As culture pushes us in a technological, wired, frenetic direction, the Ah Haa School has become a sanctuary for people to produce with their hands and experience the authentic joy of creating art. We are dedicated to visual creativity at all levels and disciplines. To this end, our summer and fall schedule of classes and events is filled with diverse opportunities and experiences.

Depot Building

Old Stone Building

Located in the stunning landscape of Colorado's San Juan Mountains, Ah Haa classes take place in our two historic buildings – the Turn-of-the-Century Train Depot and the Old Stone Building – and also in the great outdoors. Led by superb teachers and artists, we offer you innovative workshops, exhibitions, artist talks and events, providing opportunities to explore everything from sculpture and cooking to painting and bookmaking. Regardless of previous experience, every workshop is intended to ignite your creative juices, advance your skills, challenge you to take risks, and inspire "ah haa" moments.

Please join us this summer at Ah Haa. We guarantee you will have a fun, transformative and creative experience.

Painting School's summer classes this July on page 4!

PROGRAM GOALS

TPS students develop discipline-based knowledge, practical skills and a personal, expressive style. Each class is designed to guide students through exercises that will help them cultivate a creative vocabulary to pull from for future work and exploration. Ultimately, the student will take their work to greater depths while focusing on style and voice.

MISSION STATEMENT

Nestled in the phenomenal landscape of Colorado's San Juan Mountains, the Telluride Painting School is a unique program of excellence that encourages artists and students of all levels to find their artistic voice through the creation of deeply meaningful and uniquely personal work. This intensive program offers instruction from and interaction with a diverse faculty of working painters, inspiring curiosity and innovation in a stimulating and supportive environment.

AMERICAN ACADEMY of BOOKBINDING

A School for Fine Binding & Book Conservation

The American Academy of Bookbinding is an internationally known degree-oriented bookbinding school that offers book enthusiasts of all levels the opportunity to initiate and improve their skills in a generous and supportive learning environment.

GENERAL INFO

The Ah Haa School is located in the Historic Depot building at 300 South Townsend Avenue. Our American Academy of Bookbinding is located in the Old Stone Building at 117 North Willow Street, where some Ah Haa classes take place, as well. Both facilities are situated in downtown Telluride, within walking distance of shops, restaurants, shuttle buses and the Telluride-Mountain Village gondola. Most visitors find it is unnecessary to have a car while staying in Telluride.

Pre-arranged lodging packages are available for several Ah Haa classes, and all Ah Haa students are eligible for lodging discounts through Telluride Alpine Lodging, www.telluridelodging.com, 888.893.0158. There is camping at Telluride Town Park (limited availability during festivals), as well as at several National Forest and BLM campgrounds within 30 miles of Telluride.

Please visit the "Student Services" tab on our website to find out more information on our policies, travel information, and for answers to frequently asked questions.

TUITION ASSISTANCE

All students are eligible for tuition assistance. Information and application forms are available on our website, www.ahhaa.org/student-services/tuition-assistance/.

Please consider becoming a member of the Ah Haa School and helping enable everyone who walks through our doors the opportunity to explore, express and evolve through creative expression. Contributions fund instructor fees, art materials, equipment,
